comScore Media Metrix Ranks Top 50 U.S. Web Properties for August 2010

Back-to-School Frenzy Impacts Web Activity as Americans Prepare for New School Year

Traffic Driven to Sports Sites for NFL Coverage and Fantasy Football Drafts

RESTON, VA, September 23, 2010 – comScore, Inc. (NASDAQ: SCOR), a leader in measuring the digital world, today released its monthly analysis of U.S. web activity at the top online properties for August 2010 based on data from the comScore Media Metrix service. Back-to-school season accelerated the growth of several online categories during the month, from Books and Apparel to Educational Resources and Consumer Goods. Sports sites were also popular in August as Americans geared up for the NFL season and Fantasy Football drafts.

“Summer vacation came to a close in August, and millions of Americans turned to the Internet to prepare for the new school year,” said Jeff Hackett, senior vice president of comScore Media Metrix. “The convenience of back-to-school shopping online appeals to more Americans every year, as incentives such as free shipping for clothing and school supplies become more prevalent.”

Americans Read Up on Book Sites

Retail Book sites allowed parents and students to conveniently browse and order books for the new school year. More than 27.5 million people visited a Book site in August, an 11-percent increase versus July, making it the highest growing site category for the month. Barnes & Noble captured the top spot with 8.3 million visitors (up 13 percent), followed by Borders Group, Inc. with 3.0 million visitors, BookSpan Property with 2.3 million visitors and AbeBooks with 1.6 million visitors (up 45 percent). Textbook rental site Chegg.com experienced significant growth during the month, surging 290 percent to 1.4 million visitors.

School Supply Shopping Not Just For Bricks and Mortar

Parents took school supply shopping to the web, with the Consumer Goods category growing 5 percent to 26.2 million visitors in August. Staples.com Sites ranked #1 in the category with 8.0 million visitors during the month (up 16 percent), followed by Office Depot with 5.1 million (up 20 percent), QVC Sites with 4.3 million and OfficeMax with 2.9 million (up 32 percent).

Apparel sites also ranked among the top gaining categories, growing to 65.4 million visitors during the month (up 5 percent), as Americans browsed fall clothing sales for all occasions, including back-to-school. Zappos Sites ranked #1 in the category with 6.4 million visitors, followed by Limitedbrands with 6.3 million visitors and Nike with 5.1 million (up 9 percent). OldNavy.com grew 15 percent to 4.9 million visitors, followed by Nordstrom.com with 3.7 million and Gap Online with 3.4 million (up 32 percent).

Sports Sites Hike as NFL Season Begins

With the start of the NFL season, traffic to Sports sites picked up during the month reaching 123.5 million visitors, a 5-percent gain versus July. Yahoo! Sports, known as a popular destination for fantasy football, ranked #1 in the category with 48.2 million visitors, representing a 23-percent increase from the prior month. FOXSports.com on MSN ranked second with 26.2 million visitors, followed by ESPN with 25.4 million visitors. NFL Internet Group doubled its audience versus July, grabbing the #4 spot with 19.5 million visitors, ranking as the top gaining property for the month.

Top 50 Properties

Yahoo! Sites ranked as the #1 property in August with 179.0 million visitors, followed by Google Sites with 178.8 million and Microsoft Sites with 165.3 million. Viacom Digital jumped 7 positions in the ranking with 81.5 million visitors, while iVillage.com: The Womens Network also climbed 7 spots to 35.3 million visitors.

Top 50 Ad Focus Ranking

BrightRoll Video Network led the August Ad Focus ranking with a potential reach of 99 percent of Americans online, followed by TubeMogul Video Ad Platform with a 97-percent potential reach. SpotXchange Video Ad Network ranked third capturing 97-percent reach, while Firefly Video came in fourth with a potential reach of 93 percent. Both TubeMogul and Firefly appeared on the top 50 ad focus ranking for the first time in August.
